Vote early and work late.

Let no colored man lose his vote on Tuesday.

Indianapolis never had a colored freeman under Democratic rule.

Indianapolis never had a colored policeman under Democratic rule.

Do you wish to make taxes so high that a poor man cannot own a little home? If not, vote against the Democratic candidates.

The Republican party is in favor of equal rights, a free ballot and an honest count.

Do you wish to have a Democratic police force? If not, vote the straight Republican ticket.

The defeat of the Democracy on Tuesday will carry dismay into the ranks of Southern rebels.

John R. Pierson, the efficient Councilman of the Fifth ward, has done valiant service for the party and richly merits the splendid endorsement he will receive next Tuesday.

No colored man can afford to vote the Democratic ticket while the old slave holders of the South, backed by the Democratic party of the North, still deny to colored men equal rights before the law.

The colored man who votes the Democratic ticket, gives aid and comfort to the brutal, bull-doing element of the South, whom our friends throughout the land are striving to overthrow.

D. W. Grubbs, the Republican candidate for Mayor, is one of our foremost business men and most upright citizens. He should and will be elected Mayor of Indianapolis next Tuesday. Mr. Grubbs has been identified with the business interests of Indianapolis for years, and no one doubts that Mr. Grubbs will carry to the Executive office of the city the same fidelity and efficiency that has characterized him hitherto in every relation, business, political, or social. He is decidedly better qualified for Mayor than his competitor, and besides he is a true and tried Republican. The unfair fight made against Mr. Grubbs has stimulated his friends to greater exertions, and the indications now are that he will run ahead of his ticket.

THE THIRD WARD.

Mr. James A. Pritchard is the regular Republican candidate for Councilman in the Third Ward. and as such should receive the undivided support of every Republican. The men who are expected to support the independent candidate are in the main colored Republicans, who took part in the primary which nominated Mr. Pritchard, and by all rules of party honor, are bound to support the nominee. Mr. Pritchard made an honorable canvass and fairly won the nomination and no one is more cordial and enthusiastic in his support than his colored competitor, Mr.
Conrad Burleigh. Mr. Burleigh is working diligently for the success of Mr. Pritchard, and earnestly urges every colored man who supported him to give his cordial support to Mr. Pritchard.

The colored voters are in the majority in the Third Ward and on them the responsibility of Mr.
Pritchard's defeat would rest. There is no complaint that Mr. Pritchard has ever betrayed any trust or neglected any duty. There is absolutely no legitimate ground of opposition to him, and we trust and confidently believe the old Third will return Mr. Pritchard to the Council by an increased majority.

THE FOURTH WARD.

We have thus far refrained from comment on the complications of the Fourth Ward preferring to leave their adjustment to the healing influences of the time. The contest for the councilmanic nomination between Messrs. Bailey and Caylor has been very spirited, to say the least. The first primary resulted in a tie. Owing to the blunder for which neither of the candidates was responsible, the respective friends each held primaries afterward, on different days, and both candidates were declared nominated.
The matter was submitted to the Executive Committee for arbitration, which withdrew both candidates and placed in nomination Mr. Smithers.
This was not satisfactory, and both by mutual agreement between Mr.
Smithers and Mr. Caylor a new primary was held on Tuesday last, at which Mr. Caylor was nominated.
This last primary was one of the most hotly contested ever held in the ward, and it is safe to assume that there are not a half a dozen Republicans in the ward who did not take part in the primary. Mr. Caylor assured us that had Mr. Bailey or Mr. Smithers secured the nomination he would have given his cordial support to the nominee. We hold that every man who took part in the Primary Convention is in honor bound to support the man who secured a majority of the votes. We commend in the highest degree the spirit of the colored voters of the ward who so faithfully and earnestly strove to secure the nomination of Mr. Bailey, and we know that their Republicanism is of too good a quality to allow them to turn their backs on the grand old Republican party simply because their favorite candidate did not receive the nomination for Council.

The colored and white Republicans alike of the Fourth Ward owe it to themselves to see that Mr. Caylor is elected by a handsome majority, and they will do it.

DIRK DE RUITER SET RIGHT.

An attempt is being made to influence the colored vote of the Second Aldermanic district against Dirk De Ruiter, on the ground that Mr. De Ruiter did not vote for a colored man in the Republican County Convention.

We know this charge to be absolutely false, in every particular.

There were two colored candidates before the convention, and Mr. De Ruiter simply made a choice between these two colored men, and for the colored man of his choice, he worked faithfully and voted often. A great injustice is being done Mr. De Ruiter by these malicious charges. He was a gallant soldier, during the war, for the abolition of slavery, and he has always been a friend to the colored people.

Sixteen years ago when a colored man could scarcely get a meal's victuals at a public place in Indianapolis, Mr. De Ruiter kept a restaurant on South Illinois street, at which no distinction was permitted on account of color.

Mr. De Ruiter is more annoyed by the false position, in which these groundless charges place against him, than by the fear of losing votes.
Dirk De Ruiter is a straightforward, upright, honorable gentleman, and should receive the cordial support of every Republican voter in the Second District, and especially of every colored man.

Teaching Him the Business.

[New Orleans Times.]
"Herman," said a Poydras street merchant clothier, addressing his clerk, "have you not been over to the new store, the last winter?"
"No, sir; there was a dear of me left yet."
"Well, you must sell 'em right away, as de vinter will not last, you know, Herman.
Pring me one uf de goats and I vill show you somedings about de piness. I vill tell you how ve vill sell dem, and you must sell dem de piness. Herman, de vinter vas gone, you know, and ve hav had dese goats in de store dese exess years."

An $8 overcoat was handed him by his clerk, and he came in de shop. He vill show de way Rue Hoffman, mine brother in Detroit, sells his clothing and under dings." A few minutes later a negro, in quest of a suitable pair of cheap shoes, entered de store. The proprietor advanced smiling and inquired:
"Vat is it you wish?"
"Yer got any cheap shoes hyar?" asked the negro.
"Plenty of dem, my frent, plenty; at any price you vant."

The negro stated that he wanted a pair of brogans, and soon his pedal extremities were encased in them and a bargain struck.
As he was about to leave, the proprietor called him back saying by nuffin else. I see got all I want," said the negro sullenly.
"Dot may be so, my dear sir," replied the proprietor, "but I shan't vant you to look at his goat. It valse pure Russian vool, and dis time last year you doan got dot same goat for $25. Mine gracious, clothing was gone down to nooding, and dere vas no money in de piness any longer. You vant someding dot vill keep you from de vedder, and make you feel varm as summer time.
De consumption was going round, and de doctors dell me it vas de vedder. More den nine beebles dell round ve I list last week.
Dink dot. Mine frent, dot goat vas Russian vool, dick and heavy. Vy, Miesler Jones, who owns de pank on Canal street, took dot goat home mit him yesterday, and vore it all day; but vas a leedle dight agress de shoulders and he brought it pack shust a vile ago. Dry it on, my dear sir. Ah! dot vas all right. Miesler Jones vas a rich man, and he liked dot goat. How deep de pocket vas but it vas a leedle dight agress de shoulders."

The negro buttoned up the coat, thrust his hands in the pockets and felt the purse. A peaceful smile played over his face when he perceived to his mind the contents of the pockets, but he choked down his joy and inquired:
"Who did you say vore this hyar coat?"
"Vy, Miesler Jones vore owns de pank on Canal street."
"What yer gwine to ax for it?"
"Twenty dollars."
"Dat's pow high price fur dis coat, but I'll take it."
"Herman, here wrap up dis goat for de schentleman and draw in a cravat; it vill make him look nice mit de ladies."
"Nebber mind, I'll keep de coat on," replied the negro, and pulling out a roll of money, he paid for it and left the store.
While he was around the next corner moaning over the stuffed purse Hoffman said to his clerk:
"Herman, fix up anudder vore of dese goats de same way, and doan forget to dell dem dot Miesler Jones vore runs de pank on Canal street vore it yesterday."

CINCINNATI NEWS.

HACK'S HAPPY BITS.

THE SCHOOL GIRLS' HOP.

For the last two or three months the young men of the Occidental set have eagerly been looking forward to the ball which the Young School Girls' Pleasure Club, of Gaines' High School, intended to give. On Friday evening last, at Queen City Hall, their hopes and anticipations were completely fulfilled. At half past 9 the chairs around the hall were filled with elegantly dressed ladies and gentlemen, and by 10, when the sweet strains of the grand opening march floated down from the balcony, where Professor Dave Hamilton and his orchestra were seated, the scene became the most beautiful and grand as the many fair young girls leaning on the arms of the gallant young gentlemen went through the figures of the march. The march being over, the first quadrille was danced, and the various waltzes, polkas, schottisches and quadrilles which were contained on the very elegant programmes were gone through with until supper time came. The supper, under charge of that favorite caterer, Mr. Lloyd Johnson, was sumptuous and beautiful. The gentlemen, although the guests of the ladies, gave away and gallantly awaited the second table, ice-cream, sandwiches, coffee, and all the delicacies were in profusion, and the supper as a whole was superb. After supper the dancing continued until 4 in the morning.

The following ladies are members of the club, and were dressed as follows: Miss Ida Liverpool, green silk, with green brocade silk overdress and gold ornaments; Miss Stella Harris, pink bustling, trimmed in black silk velvet, with gold ornaments; Miss Cynthia Jackson, blue lace bustling, with blue silk trimming, and gold ornaments; Miss Sarah Newman, pink lace bustling with blue satin trimming; Miss Annie Ray, white silk, pink silk trimming; Miss Lulu Ray, white dotted swiss; Miss Minnie Hawkins, blue bustling, with blue silk trimming; Miss Anna Todd, cream-colored bustling, with red silk trimming; Miss Ida Gray, white zephyr cloth, red silk trimming; Miss Mary Gray, white silk, with white lace trimming; Miss Annie Slater, cream-colored bustling with blue lace trimming; Miss Anna Todd, white silk, deep valencien lace and skyblue satin trimming, with gold ornaments; Miss Lulu Hinton, white swiss and pale blue satin trimming, with gold ornaments; Miss Jessie Sweet, white dotted swiss with white silk trimming; Miss Stella Green, cream-colored bustling with red satin trimming; Miss Anna Jones, pink silk with white tulle overdress; Miss Carrie Grix in, pink silk with white swiss overdress; Miss Ida Jones, white merino, pink silk trimming; Miss Sarah Eilers, blue silk, with gold ornaments; Miss Mollie Barnett, black velvet and cream-colored bustling overdress; Miss Mattie Johnson, white muslin; Miss Martha Richards, black silk bustling, with blue lace trimming; Miss Anna Baltimore, very kindly assisted the young girls in the dressing-room and in the menage of the ball. Among the young gentlemen we noted Messrs. Joe Kinney, Charles Schooley, George Bowles, Eugene Hawkins, Jesse Woods, Peter Jackson, Grafton Jones, Freeman Murray, Will Burges, George Stewart, George Stevenson, Wm. Bond and many others. This ball was given by young school girls, who organized this club several months ago, give a ball as a complimentary to the school men of their set, and they have succeeded in giving the most recherche ball of the year and excelling by far all the balls which the young men, school teachers and young bloods of the city gave this winter. After seeing the program, and the elegant and well managed young men, the young men of the city ought to hang their heads in shame. The Press was very generally invited, and we saw Messrs.
A. J. Riggs, Louis Louder and Henry Forte of the Louisville papers on the floor, taking notes. The program was the first ever had at a colored ball and were supremely elegant and fine. Long live the ladies of the Y. S. G. P. C.

YAGARTIE.

We never believed in spiritualism, much less did we believe the Leader and its publishers to be spiritual mediums. But now, we do. Facts and documentary evidence will prove most any thing, consequently, we believe in spiritualism. A few weeks ago, on receiving the most convincing and authentic announcement that "Jarvis," of Springfield was dead, we shed tears and wept that a young man of such promise, and who had snatched away so ruthlessly, but we comforted ourselves with the thought that God only takes away the good and the blessed.
We noted his death very feelingly and appropriately, and would have attended the funeral in Springfield, had our business engagements prevented. When the following week appears in the Leader, a communication from Jarvis from Spirit land.
"I can't give ter by nuffin else. I see got all I want," said the negro sullenly.

Gaines' Intermediate and Common School celebrated the birth of Alice Ponce Cary, the poetess of America, at Zion Church, last Tuesday evening. Concert readings, declamations and class singing were the exercises of the evening, also an address by the Principal. The declamation of Master Matt Hagans, and the singing of Miss William's, deserve especially mention. A concert to be given by the children of the G and H grades—the lowest grades in school —is announced, and will probably be held on the Kinder-Garden style of concert.

A grand literary and musical concert giving by Mt. Zion Lodge No. 4, Good Samaritan association, is announced to take place Friday night, April 29th. A festival is also to be given.

The death of Lavin Brown, Esq., is announced. Mr. Brown has been old and very highly respected citizen, and his death will be mourned by many friends.

Freedom's Dawn was rendered before a large audience, at Odd Fellows' Hall, last Monday night, over in Covington. The stage was very small and the company somewhat crowded for space. We would kindly recommend Charles Plumb to go more vigor and life into himself as Colonel Estes. Charles has a fine part, and looks well in it, but more force is needed to make the part a leading one. Freedom's Dawn will be repeated at Robinson's Opera House, to May, under the charge of Cincinnati's colored author and actor, Powhatan Beaty, Esq. The Henderson Sisters and Henry Hanley, of Lexington, Ky., have been engaged, and will appear each evening.

Crap shooting is becoming quite popular with the boys. Very sad! Crap-shooters!
Very fine game—to lose money in.
Don't forget the Cantata! The 6th of May, at Robinson's Opera House.

A large number of young men go to Chilcote, Sunday.

Cleveland (O) Items.

The Excelsior brass band gives a grand vocal, instrumental and dramatic concert.
No two dates is set yet, but it will be given probably at Turn Hall in the course of the coming month.

Eugene Cunningham, formerly of the Put-in-Bay House, takes charge of the dining room of the Lake View Hotel, at Lakewood, Chautauqua Lake this summer. Prof.
B. C. Freeman, also of this city, leads the orchestra there.

The following appeared in the May Journal for the 17th: "Secretary Lincoln is said to have more visitors than any other member of the Cabinet. His list is swollen by troops of colored people, who pour in simply to shake hands with de son ob de man who made mancipation proclamation."

The elocutionary contest at the Hall of Red Cross Commandery, last Monday evening, passed off quite pleasantly. Those contested were James Christopher, Wm. Powler, W. H. Clifford, Jr., and Miss Mary Brown. Messrs. Boyd and Benj. M. Shock did not contest for the prize, although they spoke. The music for the evening was furnished by Professor B. C. Freeman and the Twilight Glee Club. The Derby Glee Club Quartet for some cause or other did not appear. The entertainment was another success for the Commandery, and the committee of arrangements deserves much praise.
Of the gentlemen W. H. Clifford, Jr., received the prize, which was a beautiful gold badge, and Miss Mary Brown, being the only ladies' prize, a ring.

PERSONALS.

Rev. J. W. Gibson occupied the pulpit of the A. M. E. Church last Sunday evening.
Deputy Sheriff Robb Fowler and Miss Martha Fowler were to have left for Elyria this afternoon, on a visit.

On last week Tuesday afternoon, the 19th, W. F. Johnson was buried.

Mrs. J. M. Holmes of the East End left last week to visit her daughter at South Bend Ind. Mrs. Benj. T. Powell.

Love orders for the Leader at R. A. Jones' Store corner of Newton & Garden streets, and they will reach yours truly. Cash is required always in payment for the paper.

Mr. Albert Richardson formerly of this city but now at Saybrook, is at Conneaut Ohio telegraphing for the L. S. & M. S.
Rail Road.

Mr. Jacob Reed has severed his connection with the Excelsior Reed and Brass Band, business of this city.

Miss Cornelia Simmons and Laura Cambell are still visiting at Mantua, O. They were expected home this week.

Professor S. S. Calkins, the Pastor of the Mt. Zion Congregational Church, on Maple street, is a splendid speaker, and it will certainly be worth any person's while to hear him.

Mr. Joseph Ricks, of Sterling Avenue, has been quite sick this last week.

Mr. J. Stanley, Jr., of Harmon street, intends spending a few weeks in the country for his health.

Things seem to be quiet for next week at least.

Springfield, Ohio.

Since our last writing, sorry to say, father Time with his keen blade, has visited us and cut down two of Springfield's old, and most respected colored citizens, Jacob Johnson, and Samuel Dudley. The former was born in Loudoun County, Va., in 1826, the latter also in Virginia, in 1817. The former died Friday the 23d, 2 a. m., and the latter Saturday 23d, 6 a. m. Both were respected members of the North street A. M. E.
Church. The funeral services of Jacob Johnson were conducted by the Rev. J. W.
Gazaway, on Sabbath morning, 10 a. m., and of Sam'l Dudley, Monday 2 p. m.
Both services were attended by a host of friends. In the death of these two men we have had a gentle reminder of what is in store for humanity at large, it is a question settled beyond dispute, that all men must pass away; the old and the young. By the death of these two men Springfield loses two of her best citizens, the North street Church two of her shining lights, and both families a kind and indulgent father, none knew them but to respect them; both died as they had lived, in the full triumph of faith, and the circumstances warrant us in saying that our loss is their gain. The families have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Summer literary society for some reasons, which in the main, can be attributed to the oppressive heat, has not so well attended, but assurance is given, that those who did attend were well paid for the trouble of coming out. The exercises were very interesting as a whole, but we take occasion to mention particularly the reading of "Clarence's Dream" by Miss Hattie Yates, while we find it almost impossible to command words to express our appreciation, we nevertheless believe that all who heard it will join in saying that an elocutionist Miss Yates occupies the place preeminent in the society. The Summer literary society, the 1st of May, something grand is promised, and it is hoped that this worthy organization will be well patronized in their first effort to please the public.

The second of the town around, that all classes may hear and attend, irrespective of color or previous condition.

While some are dying, others are marrying and are given in marriage, as is clearly shown in the sudden jumping off of Mr. James Russell, of Sherman avenue, and Miss Lacetta Stevens of Kinton, Ohio, Saturday 23d.

The Sothern's went around Monday evening with their little horns and skamanded their nothing stronger than lemonade was used.

Mr. W. Walker acting upon the advice of Horace Quigley, now goes West.

The Duquesne Blues, celebrated their Seventh Anniversary last Thursday evening at free supper to all and plenty of music and fun, was the order of the evening, this a military organization, supervised in drill and discipline by none in the state, and it is one of which the citizens of Springfield may feel proud.

Don't forget the Summers May 6th, at Punks Hall.
